Partner Learning Management Plus

ZINFI's partner relationship management (PRM) platform has been updated with an advanced, integrated Learning Management Plus (LMS+) module that seamlessly connects partners to e-learning standards-based content that is SCORM, AICC, xAPI and cmi5 compliant. The LMS+ module is an industry first that allows channel organizations to build training, assessments and certifications materials for their channel partners utilizing standards-compliant materials and deliver them online through browser-agnostic technology.

With ZINFI UCM's LMS+ module, your organization can train channel sales reps and partner sales reps in "bite size" increments. The module provides learning solutions and sales-stage-linked learning and asset delivery in a micro-learning environment. Use the module to administer, document, track, report on and deliver multiple courses and training programs across the entire channel network creating, customizing or utilizing pre-compliant - course materials and assessments.

Certifications Management

The Learning Management Plus (LMS+) module has been designed to make it fast and easy for organizations to set up a variety of certification programs for channel sales, marketing and technical teams in a diverse channel environment. You can leverage existing SCORM, xAPI, cmi5 and AICC compliant courses and assessments or custom-develop your own. The module also allows you to manage the visibility of certification programs so you can assign programs to specific groups of partners based on their competency level. Courses may be grouped and ordered to provide learners with a guided sequence through multiple courses, and the module can be configured to automatically issue certifications upon completion of coursework.

The certifications management component of our LMS+ module includes multilingual functionality. This makes it possible for you to upload localized certification programs to the appropriate non-English-speaking channel sales, marketing and technical teams so they can get certified with minimal hassle.
