

Social Syndication Management

Social Syndication Management of ZINFI's Unified Partner Management platform makes it easy for vendors to distribute social media content for Facebook, Twitter(X), and other platforms via their channel partner network. Partners can either auto-stream or manually customize each feed for instant or scheduled posting on their profile or company pages.

Social Post Management

Social Syndication Management makes it a snap to quickly set up dynamic content for social media platforms for yourself and your partner's usage, helping you increase content reach with less effort.

Social Syndication Management includes in-depth analytics, which you and your partners can use to measure the effectiveness of specific distributed content. Vendors and partners can save hours by automating complex distribution processes using our content distribution scheduler.

Key Features

- ✓ Content setup and management
- ✓ Content publishing management
- ✓ Content classification

Social Account Setup Management

Vendors and their partners can use Social Syndication Management to connect social accounts like Twitter(X) and Facebook.

Integrating different platforms via a direct connector is essential, allowing data to flow smoothly across diverse platforms. This provides your organization with instant, detailed insights into campaign results for each instance of shared content—without visiting individual partners' social profiles.

Key Features

- ✓ Account setup and management
- ✓ Company page link
- ✓ Account renewal

Post Scheduling Management

You can utilize Social Syndication Management to immediately make marketing content available to partners. Your partners can then choose a specific date and time to post the content on their corporate social accounts to generate leads. Track the response of your social interactions via OOTB Social Reports via our BI Reports.

As people interact with the content, partners can direct prospects to their own customized, co-branded microsites embedded in the content. Our robust post-scheduling management features give partners the flexibility they need in posting content with optimal timing.

Key Features

- ✓ Content post scheduling management
- ✓ Account or page posting management
- ✓ Short URL generation
